The Business Story

The Challenge

Many organizations are investing in Artificial Intelligence, advanced analytics, and digital transformation initiatives. However, fragmented enterprise data, disconnected business applications, inconsistent master data, and limited governance often prevent these initiatives from delivering measurable business value.

MatrixOne helps organizations establish a trusted enterprise data foundation by assessing the current landscape, identifying business risks, and defining a structured roadmap that prepares enterprise data for future AI adoption.

The Solution

- Enterprise data landscape evaluation.
- Data quality and governance maturity assessment.
- Master Data Management readiness.
- Integration and platform assessment.
- AI readiness evaluation.
- Executive roadmap for phased modernization.

The Outcome

- A clear understanding of current enterprise data maturity.
- Prioritized improvement opportunities.
- Improved governance and data ownership.
- A roadmap for AI-ready enterprise data.
- Reduced transformation risk through structured planning.

- Enterprise data spread across multiple business applications and databases.
- Inconsistent customer, product, and vendor information.
- Poor data quality affecting business reporting and analytics.
- Limited governance and ownership of critical enterprise data.
- Lack of a structured roadmap for AI-ready enterprise data.
